Press release

AllFlexo B.V. proudly presents the Toyobo Cosmolight QZ water washable flexo plate.

Even though water washable flexo plates have existed for decades, developments have not stopped and further enhancements have been achieved. Building on many years of experience, the Cosmolight® QZ water washable flexo plate is the latest development from Toyobo.

There are numerous advantages to using Toyobo Cosmolight® QZ. First and foremost, the fact that only water and a mild detergent are being used makes it a far more environmentally friendly solution than solvent based flexo plates. Another benefit is the unmatched ink transfer that allows for printing with a minimal impression setting which then results in reduced dot gain. In addition, it also reduces the wear and damage of a plate. Like all other Cosmolight® CTP plates, the Cosmolight® QZ has flat top dot technology integrated into the plate to prevent the inhibition of oxygen.

Cosmolight® QZ has been developed for flexo printers that demand the highest possible quality and can easily compete with market standard solvent plates on print quality and durability. It offers flexo printers reduced processing times, energy consumption of the required equipment and operating cost. Toyobo's water washable flexographic printing plates are not just sustainable and affordable, but deliver reproducible and consistent print quality, reduced costs and waste as well as increased productivity.

Toyobo Cosmolight® QZ is best processed on a processor such as a Cosmoline or an AquaSupreme and is available in various sizes.

AllFlexo is proud to be the distributing partner of Toyobo for the Benelux, Germany, United Kingdom, Ireland, Austria, Switzerland, Denmark, Sweden and Romania.

At the AllFlexo website (<https://www.allflexo.nl/>) you can find further information on Toyobo, the Cosmoline, AquaSupreme, testimonials from several companies as well as other products that AllFlexo distributes.
